A hands-on exhibition about language, learning and wellbeing

Can you guess what your friend is feeling as they stick their hand in our fun 'feely' boxes? How many words can you think of to describe your emotions?

Can you succeed in our Parents vs. Children communication task?

Join us to explore how children learn to use language to manage their emotions and maintain good mental health and find out more about what we have learnt so far from the SCALES study.

Discover the scientific evidence behind our displays and activities

Fun for all the family!
